

Labour Comfort Positions

Squatting (1st and 2nd Stage Labour)

This position takes advantage of gravity and widens the pelvis to encourage the baby's descent.

It makes your legs tired, so change the position between contractions.

Your partner can wrap his or her arms around you, either from the front or back. You can lean on your partner while squatting.

