Your Health Information

Get secure online access to your health information when and where you need it.

You can securely and easily access your health information online 24 hours a day, 7 days a week when you register with one of the resources listed below. Available to British Columbians across the province or through your health authority, these resources can provide you with access to your immunization records, lab results, dispensed medications, medical imaging reports and more.

Use Health Gateway to access your proof of vaccination and COVID-19 test results.

You can also get your proof of vaccination for yourself or your family without logging in.

Your Provincial Resources

Health Gateway

Health Gateway provides secure and convenient access to your B.C. health records. Anyone 12 years and older can use it. Parents and guardians can also add a dependent in Health Gateway to see immunizations for their children 11 years and younger. To learn more about Health Gateway, visit BC Government: Health Gateway.

Health Gateway provides access to your:

- Blood test results and results from other lab tests
- Medication history
- Immunization records
- Community health and hospital visits
- Special Authority Requests
- COVID-19 proof of vaccination
- COVID-19 test results

Health Gateway brings together your health information in one place, no matter where in the province you get health care. More types of health records will be added in future.
